Asian Arts School The Best Drawing and Painting Training School in San Francisco 10-WEEKEND SUMMER WEEKEND CLASSES

Classes from May 28 to July 31, 2016

We will have 10 summer weekend drawing and painting classes. They will run from May 28 to July 31, 2016. Since many families want their students to keep taking art classes during the summer, we will keep the current class levels and schedules for their summer registration.

The curriculum for beginners this summer will be step-by-step lessons in how to draw cartoons, animals and more. Instruction will be in both English and Mandarin.

WEEK	THEME
One*	Kung Fu Panda
Two	Dragons and Lions
Three	Snakes and Sea Creatures
Four	Frozen
Five	Transformers
Six*	Monkey King
Seven	Landscapes
Eight	Superheroes and Villains
Nine	The Chinese Zodiac
Ten	Flowers and Birds

This summer the intermediate students will work on something old and something new. They will refine their basic rendering skills of perspective, and light and shadow. They will also develop their own comic art style.

Refining basics often means “troubleshooting”. This means that the students will face their own particular drawing or painting problems with such tasks as drawing eyes, noses and hands from different angles, using cold and warm colors, drawing buildings with perspective, or painting water, or wrinkles, or certain textures.

The advanced students will work on their individual creative projects, and take on the “troubleshooting” challenges just as the intermediates will do.

Let your child take on an artistic challenge. Sign your child up for any part of our summer session.

For our new students, we will test their skill levels and build a course for them based on our assessments.

The tuition for the summer is the same as the current tuition.
