Asian Arts School
The Best Art and Mandarin School in San Francisco
THE SUMMER AFTERNOON EDUCATION RAINBOW
 Classes from May 31 to August 5, 2016

This year, we will introduce our new 10-week summer afternoon program that is designed for families who want their children to explore their interests and develop their skills in a wider range of subjects, including professional fields. All of our teachers are experienced in their respective fields.

The afternoon session will be from 3:00 to 6:00pm. It will run from May 31 to August 5, 2016. The activities will include drawing, painting, illustration, math, architecture, engineering design, English reading and writing, calligraphy, Spanish, and Mandarin singing and dancing.

This summer, the beginning art students will enjoy step-by-step lessons in how to draw both realistically and in a cartoon style. Instruction will be in both English and Mandarin.

The intermediate art students will refine their basic skills in representing convincing perspective, and light and shadow. They will also develop their own comic art style.

Refining basics often means "troubleshooting". This means that the intermediate students will face their own particular drawing or painting problems through such tasks as drawing eyes, noses and hands from different angles, using cold and warm colors, drawing buildings with perspective, or painting water, or wrinkles, or certain textures.
