Asian Arts School

The Best Drawing and Painting Training School in San Francisco

10-WEEKEND OR AFTERNOON SUMMER ART CLASSES

for new or continue students from May 30 to August 6, 2017

We will have 10 summer afternoon and weekend drawing and painting classes. They will run from May 30th to August 6th, 2017. Since many families want their students to keep taking art classes during the summer, we will keep the current class levels and schedules for their summer registration. There will be no registration fee for continuing students. The curriculum for beginners this summer will be step-by-step lessons in how to draw cartoons, animals and more. The Instructional themes are on this schedule.

WEEK	Dates	THEME
One*	May 30-June 4	Year of the Rooster
Two	June 6-June 11	Pokemon's 3D World
Three	June 13-June 18	Mickey Mouse and Friends
Four	June 20-June 25	Spirited Away
Five	June 27-July 2	What's in the Forest?
Six*	July 4*-July 9	Chinese Zodiac
Seven	July 11-July 16	What's in the Ocean?
Eight	July 18-July 23	Superheroes and Villains
Nine	July 25-July 30	Minecraft Design
Ten	August 1-August 6	What's in the Sky?

This summer the intermediate students will work on something old and something new. They will refine their basic rendering skills of perspective, and light and shadow. They will also develop their own comic art style.

Refining basics often means "troubleshooting". This means that the students will face their own particular drawing or painting problems with such tasks as drawing eyes, noses and hands from different angles, using cold and warm colors, drawing buildings with perspective, or painting water, or wrinkles, or certain textures.

The advanced students will draw and paint from classical statues, work on their individual creative projects, and focus on the rendering of details (zooming in).

Let your child take on an artistic challenge. Sign your child up for any part of our summer session.

We will test new students to establish their skill levels and build a course for them based on our assessments.

The tuition for the summer is the same as the current tuition.
